$300 MILLION CAMPAIGN, 2019-2023

Grameen America envisions an inclusive society in which all entrepreneurs, regardless of gender, race or income, have access to fair and affordable financial services to support upward economic mobility. Building on a successful decade of empowering women nationwide, Grameen America launched a bold new campaign to raise $300 million through a mixture of philanthropy and debt capital. Your campaign support will allow us to scale our organization, lift low-income communities, stabilize families and create multigenerational change. Your multi-year pledge will impact low-income women through access to capital, asset-building, credit establishment and financial education.

Your five-year commitment will have the following impact across the United States:

$10M

Supports the expansion of five new branches, serving 42,300 women entrepreneurs with over 135,000 microloans.

$5M

Launches two new branches, disbursing $195 million through 67,900 microloans.

$1M

Supports more than 4,400 jobs and generates an average of $1,780 in annual additional business income per member.

Since each dollar is recycled back into the loan portfolio as it is repaid, our loans serve communities in perpetuity. Over the course of five years, a single dollar will yield $12, generating an exponentially amplified impact.

AMPLIFYING RACIAL EQUITY

Grameen America has made a bold commitment to innovate its program to better serve Black women entrepreneurs across the country.

Over the next decade, we will launch a new network of branches in Black communities, starting with three branches over the next two years.

By 2030, we plan to reach over 70,000 Black women entrepreneurs, investing over half a billion dollars in their small businesses, delivering results which mirror the scale and proven impact of our current program.
